

Sick Parade.

If you know someone who is a bit crook, let us know so we can give them a shout out.

Peter Holmes, who lives down in beautiful Burnie, on the north coast of Tassie and who can only be described an old codger, hasn't been a bit crook lately. He was recently confined to bed for a week with Bronchial Pneumonia.

A little bird told us that wife Avis will be happy when he's up and about again as she reckons he's a rotten patient and she's tossing the little bell into Bass Strait as soon as she can.

Get well soon mate!!
